

From Insight to Opportunity

A LETTER FROM ADRIENNE OLSON

Associate Publisher, Chronicle Careers

Dear Reader,

For decades, The Chronicle of Higher Education has been privileged to document the ever-evolving higher-ed landscape. Through our reporting, we've shared stories of innovation, challenge, and transformation. Today, I write to you about a transformation of our own.

Introducing Chronicle Careers.

It's our commitment to build a bridge from the reporting that helps you understand higher ed to the career opportunities, resources, and tools that empower you to shape it. Chronicle Careers offers insight and opportunity — in career development, job seeking, and hiring — for all higher ed. All here.

Where Higher Ed Goes to Find What's Next.

As the nation's longest-running job board for higher education, we've had the privilege of connecting hundreds of thousands of faculty, staff, and administrators with new opportunities for 50 years.

Whether you're navigating a career change or filling a critical role, it's now easier than ever to post or discover open positions alongside the information, ideas, and intelligence you rely on from The Chronicle.

Advance With Insight.

Amid rapid change in higher ed, we've invested in fresh insights, cutting-edge tools, and expert-led resources to ensure you're ready for what's next.

Professional-Development Workshops

Our professional-development programs combine insights from The Chronicle's journalism with practical skills and tools to help you advance your career. We partner with top experts and experienced practitioners to meet the needs of higher-ed professionals like you.

Working Better Column

In his new column, Kevin R. McClure explores higher education as a workplace —what it does well, what it does poorly, and what it can do to improve the professional lives of faculty and staff members.

Coming Soon: Cost-of-Living Analysis

How far your salary goes depends on where you teach and where you live. Through upcoming coverage by our Adrienne Lu and Megan Zahneis and a soon-to-be-released salary-comparison tool, we let you see how your compensation stacks up.

Your Career Weekly Newsletter

Navigate your career in higher education with expert advice, curated news, and resources to help you thrive. Delivered every Monday, Your Career kicks off your week with tips and tools to stoke your professional growth.

For many years, The Chronicle has earned your trust through uncompromising, independent journalism. Extending that trust into the deeply personal realm of your career is our core focus. We understand that behind every job listing and every career move, there's a human story — your story.

Thank you for letting us be a part of it.
