CHRONICLE CAREERS | Advancing With Insight

The Chronicle's Professional Development Programs

We have helped thousands of higher-education professionals think strategically about their careers and leadership roles within their institutions. With a range of engaging events, carefully curated readings, and specially-designed exercises, our professional development programs can help you and leaders at your institution approach challenges and opportunities with a fresh lens and innovative mindset.

FEATURED PROGRAMS

The Chronicle's Administrative Leadership Institute

October 2025

This program is designed to help administrative leaders develop skills and sensibilities related to interpersonal collaboration. Over the course of two weeks, participants will have the opportunity to transform their practice of shared governance through collaborative workshops and guided exercises on learning how to make tough decisions, leading with resiliency, and building high-performing teams and organizations.

The Chronicle's Higher-Education Mental-Health Forum

October 2025

Join us for a transformative half-day of professional development featuring interactive sessions designed to address the growing challenges that students, faculty, and staff are facing on college campuses. Through engaging discussions and practical strategies, campus leaders will gain valuable insights to better support student well-being and foster productive mindsets.

The Chronicle's Strategic-Leadership Program for Department Chairs

January 2025

As a bridge between administration and faculty, department chairs have one of the toughest jobs on campus. We've partnered with experienced academic leaders and leading research experts to design a program that will help guide new and experienced chairs through the challenges and transformative opportunities of their role.
